TEXTBOOK PP. 64–68 · WORKBOOK PP. 56–61

LO ESENCIAL In one minute

- 1 A review lesson. The present tense of all regular verbs and ir (Episode 5) come back in every exercise: if hablamos, coméis, viven, vamos don't come instantly, go back to Episode 5.
- 2 Question words always carry an accent: ¿dónde?, ¿cómo?, ¿cuál?, ¿qué?, ¿quién?. What is your...? is ¿Cuál es...?, not ¿Qué es...?
- 3 From... to...: de las tres y media a las seis · de lunes a viernes.
- 4 Small words: a casa (home) · en casa (at home) · conmigo (with me) · contigo (with you). And two more odd yo forms: tengo, salgo.

GRAMÁTICA How it works

The present tense, in use

The table of all six forms is in Episode 5. Here are the workbook's own sentences to read until the endings come without thinking.

Tú escribes mucho en la clase de inglés.

You write a lot in English class.

A veces yo estudio en la cafetería.

Sometimes I study in the cafeteria.

WATCH OUT

Ud. · Uds. take the same form as él · ellos: Uds. los profesores explican bien las lecciones. And nosotras, vosotras are for groups of women only.

Question words

Every question word carries an accent, and the question opens with ¿. A little word like con or a goes in front: ¿con quién?, ¿a qué hora?

¿Dónde vives?

Where do you live?

¿Cuál es tu clase favorita?

What is your favourite class?

WATCH OUT

What is your...? is ¿Cuál es...?, not ¿Qué es tu clase favorita? (¿Qué es...? asks for a definition). And a name is asked with ¿Cómo? (how): ¿Cómo se llama?

From... to...: de... a...

Telling the time and a la · a las are in Episode 5. New here: de ... a ... for a stretch of time, with the article on both clock times.

Trabajo de las tres y media a las seis y cuarto.

I work from half past three to quarter past six.

Tengo clase de química a las ocho.

I have chemistry class at eight.

WATCH OUT

Keep the article on both times: de la una a las dos (from one to two), never de una a dos.

Review: already in your notebook

The workbook opens with a summary of Lecciones 1–5. Nothing in it is new: if a line feels shaky, go back to that episode.
