EPISODIO

15

quince

Culpable

Guilty

TEXTBOOK PP. 150–160 · WORKBOOK PP. 152–162

LO ESENCIAL In one minute

1. The irregular past: a new stem and one set of endings: tuve, estuve, anduve (-uv-), dije, traje (-j-). The yo and él endings are not stressed, so no accent: tuve, tuvo. After j: dijeron, trajeron. dar: di, dio. hubo = there was.
2. le, les = to, for him, her, you (Ud.), them: Arturo le regaló una campera. No masculine or feminine; add a + the person to be clear: …a Raquel.
3. gustar: the thing liked is the subject: me gusta el parque · me gustan las manzanas · me gusta bailar. encantar (to love things) and molestar (to bother) work the same way.
4. To encourage: ¿Vamos? · ¡Anda, vamos! · Debe ser divertido. To agree: A mí también (me too) · A mí tampoco (me neither).

PARA ANIMAR Encouraging someone

¿Vamos?	Shall we go?	A suggestion.
¡Anda, vamos!	Come on, let's go!	When the other person isn't keen.
Debe ser divertido.	It's probably fun.	debe ser = it must be, it's probably.
¿En serio? —¡En serio!	Really? —Really!
¿Qué te pasa? · Dime.	What's the matter? · Tell me.	To someone who looks worried. dime = tell me, to tú.
¡Te da vergüenza!	You're embarrassed!	Mira lo rojo que estás = look how red you are.

EL VERBO tener · had · the past

tener had · the past IRREGULAR

SINGULAR			PLURAL
yo	tuve	I had	nosotros/as	tuvimos	we had
tú	tuviste	you had	vosotros/as	tuvisteis	you had él · ella · usted	tuvo	he, she had · you had	ellos · ellas · ustedes	tuvieron	they had · you had

REMEMBER

estar and andar follow it exactly: estuve, estuvo… · anduve, anduvo…. No accents: the stress stays on the stem, tuve, tuvo.

GRAMÁTICA How it works

The irregular past: -uv-, -j-, dar

A few very common verbs take a new stem in the past and the same endings whatever their infinitive: -e, -iste, -o, -imos, -isteis, -ieron.

	STEM	YO · ÉL	ELLOS
tener	tuv-	tuve · tuvo	tuvieron
estar	estuv-	estuve · estuvo	estuvieron
andar	anduv-	anduve · anduvo	anduvieron
decir	dij-	dije · dijo	dijeron
traer	traj-	traje · trajo	trajeron
dar	d-	di · dio	dieron

No traje mucha ropa en este viaje. Por eso tuve que ir de compras varias veces.
I didn't bring many clothes on this trip. That's why I had to go shopping several times.

Le dije a mi madre que conocí a un hombre muy simpático en Buenos Aires.
I told my mother I had met a very nice man in Buenos Aires.

WATCH OUT

After j the they ending loses its i: dijeron, trajeron, never ~~dijieron~~. dar takes the -er, -ir endings with no accents, like ver (Episode 13): di, diste, dio. The past of hay is hubo.

to him, for her: le, les

The person something is given, said or done to or for. Only le and les are new: the rest are the same as me, te, nos, os in Episodes 13–14, and none of them has a masculine or feminine.

	ONE	MORE THAN ONE
I · we	me = to, for me	nos = to, for us
you, familiar	te = to, for you	os = to, for you all
you, formal · he, she	le = to, for you (Ud.), him, her	les = to, for you (Uds.), them

Arturo le regaló una campera.
Arturo gave her a jacket (as a present).

Héctor les dijo que encontró la carta.
Héctor told them he had found the letter.

WATCH OUT

le can mean him, her or you: add a + the person, and keep the le as well: Arturo le regaló una campera a Raquel. For a present you can also say Esta campera es para ti: para + mí, ti (Episode 14).

gustar: the thing you like is the subject

Episode 4's le gusta, in full. Spanish says the park is pleasing to me: gusta for one thing or an infinitive, gustan for more than one, and the person is me, te, le, nos, os, les.

	ONE THING · DOING	MORE THAN ONE
(a mí) me	me gusta el parque	me gustan las manzanas
(a ti) te	te gusta bailar	te gustan las uvas
(a Raquel) le	le gusta estar al aire libre	le gustan las fiestas
(a ellos) les	les gusta la fruta	les gustan los restaurantes

A Héctor le gusta bailar, pero le gusta más cantar.	Héctor likes dancing, but he likes singing more.
¿Le gustan las uvas rojas? —Claro. Le encantan.	Does he like red grapes? —Of course. He loves them.

WATCH OUT

encantar is for things and activities; to love a person is querer or amar. To agree: Me gusta la sandía. —A mí también. · No me gustan los duraznos. —A mí tampoco. To disagree: A mí no. · A mí sí.

Small rules, big difference

estar aburrido = to be bored · ser aburrido = to be boring	Arturo está aburrido. · La fiesta es aburrida.
tener vergüenza = to be embarrassed · tener ganas de + infinitive = to feel like	Ahora tengo ganas de comer una ensalada de fruta.
ir de compras = to go shopping · andar en mateo = to take a carriage ride	Raquel fue de compras a la calle Florida.
regalar = to give as a present · dar = to give	Arturo le regaló una campera de cuero.

PRONUNCIACIÓN How it sounds

ñ: like ny in canyon

ñ is its own letter, after n in the dictionary. Say it like ny in canyon, which comes from Spanish cañón: año, señora, mañana, español, pequeño.

n or ñ changes the word

cana (grey hair) · caña (cane) · sonar (to ring) · soñar (to dream) · pena (sorrow) · peña (rock). n itself is as in English; before b, v, p, m it closes into an m: un beso, en Perú.

Say it

La compañía del señor Muñoz está en España. · Los niños pequeños hablan español. · La señorita Ordóñez tiene veinte años.

FRASES ÚTILES Ready to use

¿En qué piensas?	What are you thinking about?
¿Te sientes bien? ¿Qué te pasa?	Do you feel all right? What's the matter?
Tengo un mal presentimiento.	I have a bad feeling about this.
Ahora tengo ganas de comer una ensalada de fruta.	Now I feel like eating a fruit salad.
Todos nos están mirando.	Everyone is looking at us.
Lo pasaron muy bien.	They had a very good time.

VOCABULARIO Words

Learn these first. The lesson's own word list.

LOS VERBOS

andar	to walk
encantar	to love, like something very much
gustar	to like; to be pleasing to
mandar	to send
molestar	to bother, disturb
pasarlo bien · mal	to have a good · bad time
regalar	to give (as a gift)
hubo	there was · there were

LAS FRUTAS

la banana · el plátano	banana
la cereza	cherry
la ciruela	plum
el durazno · el melocotón	peach
la fresa · la frutilla (Arg.)	strawberry
el limón	lemon
la manzana	apple
el melón	melon
la naranja	orange
la pera	pear
la piña	pineapple
la sandía	watermelon
la toronja	grapefruit
la uva	grape

LOS ADJETIVOS

aburrido · aburrida	bored; boring
culpable	guilty
divertido · divertida	fun

LAS COSAS

la bolsa	purse, handbag
la canasta	basket
el recuerdo	memento
el regalo	present

LOS CONCEPTOS

el presentimiento	premonition
la sorpresa	surprise

LAS PALABRAS ADICIONALES

andar en mateo	to take a carriage ride
ir de compras	to go shopping
tener… años	to be… years old
tener vergüenza	to be embarrassed, ashamed
estar al aire libre	to be outdoors
le gusta(n) más…	he, she likes… more (better)
más tarde	later

ALSO ON THE LIST Para animar: see Para animar above