TEXTBOOK PP. 38–50

LO ESENCIAL

In one minute

- 1 Adjectives agree with their noun, like the articles: Osito es pequeño y negro, los perros son inteligentes y fieles. Plural: vowel + s (inteligentes), consonant + es (fieles).
- 2 Introducing people: Éste es... (a man), Ésta es... (a woman), Éstos son... (men, or a mixed group), Éstas son... (women only).
- 3 School subjects are mostly cognates: la biología, la filosofía, la literatura. Some need a second look: la química = chemistry, el comercio = business. And el colegio is a school, not a college.
- 4 Le gusta + verb = he / she likes to... (No le gusta estudiar). Me gustaría + verb = I would like to...

GRAMÁTICA

How it works

Describing: adjectives agree

An adjective matches its noun in gender and number, just like el · la · los · las. Adjectives in -o have four forms; those in -e or a consonant have one form for both genders and only add the plural. Describing adjectives usually come after the noun: un perro inteligente.

|           | MASC. · ONE          | MASC. · MORE         | FEM. · ONE           | FEM. · MORE          |
|-----------|----------------------|----------------------|----------------------|----------------------|
| -o        | pequeño o     | pequeño s     | pequeña a     | pequeña s     |
| -e        | inteligente e | inteligente s | inteligente e | inteligente s |
| consonant | fiel                 | fiel es       | fiel                 | fiel es       |

Osito es pequeño y negro.

Osito is small and black.

Es muy inteligente y cariñoso.

He's very intelligent and affectionate.

Los perros son animales muy inteligentes. También son muy fieles.

Dogs are very intelligent animals. They are also very loyal.

Algunas personas creen que los gatos son más listos.

Some people think cats are brighter.

WATCH OUT

Hablador ends in a consonant but adds -a for a woman: habladora.
Egoísta ends in -a but is the same for both: un perro egoísta, una persona egoísta.

Introducing people: éste es...

Choose the form that matches the person or people you are introducing.

|        | ONE PERSON        | MORE THAN ONE       |
|--------|-------------------|---------------------|
| male   | Éste es... | Éstos son... |
| female | Ésta es... | Éstas son... |

Éste es mi padre.

This is my father.

Ésta es mi profesora de español.

This is my Spanish teacher.

Éstos son mis hijos.

These are my children.

Éstas son mis hijas.

These are my daughters.

WATCH OUT

A mixed group takes éstos, like los hijos. Before a noun, no accent: este semestre. Newer spelling rules drop it in éste es too.

Likes: le gusta, me gustaría

Likes and dislikes use the verb gustar. The book teaches it later; for now, learn these set phrases.

Le gusta estudiar.

He / she likes to study.

No le gusta estudiar.

He / she doesn't like to study.

A Jaime no le gusta la escuela.

Jaime doesn't like school.

Me gustaría visitar la Catedral y la Giralda.

I would like to visit the Cathedral and the Giralda.

WATCH OUT

To name the person who likes, put a in front: a Jaime le gusta...

Small rules, big difference

-ar verbs: -o I · -a he, she · -an they

Yo tomo inglés. Mi amigo toma arte. Otros amigos toman química.

tomar = to take (a course), to have (a drink)

Toma inglés. · Toma un fino.

bueno · primero lose the -o before a masculine singular noun.

Es buen estudiante. · el primer año

in- · im- make opposites (im- before p and b).

dependiente · independiente, paciente · impaciente

-z plural: z becomes c + es, same sound.

el pez · los peces

no ... nada = nothing: two negatives are normal.

Miguel no sabe nada.

donde = where, in a statement · ¿dónde? with an accent, in a question

Donde yo vivo, los chicos estudian inglés.

COGNADOS

Words you already know

Most of the new subject names are cognates: swap the ending and you have the English word. The book itself asks you to find business, foreign languages, accounting and chemistry in the list. It also spells psychology two ways, psicología and sicología: both are correct.

CULTURA

Good to know

El colegio

In Spain a colegio is a grade school or high school, not a college. Many, like the Colegio de San Francisco de Paula in the episode, are linked to a religious order, and religión is a school subject. A subject is la asignatura in Spain; la materia is used all over the Spanish-speaking world.

Pets

In the US pets are often treated like members of the family. Some Hispanics find that unusual, because in many Hispanic settings animals are given less importance.

University in Hispanic countries

After the bachillerato (the high-school diploma), students choose their major as soon as they enter university and follow a set programme with few electives. Courses usually last a full year and end with a compulsory exam.

Sevilla

In this city of Andalucía, Jewish, Arab and Christian cultures lived side by side for centuries, and all three still show. It is famous for its Semana Santa (Holy Week): brotherhoods (cofradías) carry huge floats (pasos) with scenes from the life of Christ through the streets.
