La despedida

The farewell

TEXTBOOK PP. 51–63 · WORKBOOK PP. 43–55

LO ESENCIAL In one minute

1. Telling time: ¿Qué hora es? · Es la una (only one o'clock is singular) · Son las dos, tres… Add minutes with y up to the half hour (y cuarto, y media), take them off the next hour with menos after it (las cinco menos cuarto). ¿A qué hora? · A las ocho de la mañana.
2. Days and good-byes: the days take no capital and the week starts on lunes. El lunes = on Monday, los lunes = on Mondays. Leaving: Adiós · Hasta luego · Hasta mañana.
3. Ir (to go): voy, vas, va, vamos, vais, van. Ir a + place = to go to (Voy a Madrid); ir a + infinitive = to be going to do (Voy a buscar a la Sra. Suárez).
4. We ends in -amos, -emos, -imos: hablamos, creemos, vivimos. You all is ustedes (hablan) for any group, but in Spain friends and family get vosotros (habláis).

DESPEDIDAS Good-byes

Adiós.	Good-bye.	The general good-bye; the one to use if you may not see the person again.
Hasta luego.	See you later.	Someone you expect or hope to see again, even a person you have just met.
Hasta mañana.	See you tomorrow.	Someone you will see tomorrow, like a friend or a classmate.

EL VERBO ir · to go

ir to go IRREGULAR

SINGULAR			PLURAL
yo	voy	I go	nosotros/as	vamos	we go
tú	vas	you go	vosotros/as	vais	you go
él · ella · usted	va	he, she goes · you go	ellos · ellas · ustedes	van	they go · you go

REMEMBER

Put v- in front of the -ar endings: vas, va, vamos, vais, van. Only voy is odd, and it rhymes with soy and estoy.

FOUR WAYS TO SAY you go

vas to a friend (tú), va politely (usted), vais to friends in Spain (vosotros), van to any group (ustedes). Vais has no accent: it is one syllable.

GRAMÁTICA How it works

Telling time: ¿Qué hora es?

One o'clock is singular, es la una; every other hour is plural, son las dos, son las tres: the la · las stands for la hora. Up to the half hour, add the minutes with y. After it, take them off the next hour with menos.

	SPANISH	TIME
one o'clock	Es la una.	1:00
other hours	Son las dos. · Son las seis.	2:00 · 6:00 minutes past	Son las dos y veinte. · Son las nueve y diez.	2:20 · 9:10
quarter, half	Son las ocho y cuarto. · Son las diez y media.	8:15 · 10:30 minutes to	Es la una menos diez. · Son las cinco menos cuarto.	12:50 · 4:45

WATCH OUT

Still singular with minutes: Es la una y media. And the ¿Qué horas son? you heard in the episode is the Mexican way of asking, also used by people of Mexican descent in the US.

At what time: a las…, de la mañana

To say at a time, use a la or a las: ¿A qué hora…? · a la una · a las once y media. To be precise, add the part of the day.

	SPANISH	ENGLISH
a.m.	… de la mañana	in the morning
p.m., until dinner	… de la tarde	in the afternoon, early evening
p.m., later	… de la noche	in the evening, at night

Son las ocho y media de la mañana.	It's eight thirty in the morning.
Son las tres menos cuarto de la tarde.	It's a quarter to three in the afternoon.

WATCH OUT

tarde alone means late; la tarde is the afternoon. In the same way, mañana = tomorrow and la mañana = the morning.

Days of the week: el lunes, los lunes

The days take no capital, and the week starts on lunes, as calendars show. Use el for on and los for every.

	ON ONE DAY	EVERY WEEK
lunes to viernes	el lunes · el viernes	los lunes · los viernes
sábado, domingo	el sábado · el domingo	los sábados · los domingos

Muchas personas van a la iglesia el domingo.	Many people go to church on Sunday.
Los lunes, a las ocho de la mañana, asisto a mi clase de geografía.	On Mondays, at eight in the morning, I attend my geography class.

WATCH OUT

The article alone means on: never ~~en el lunes~~. Lunes to viernes already end in -s, so their plural doesn't change.

Two jobs for ir

Ir (verb card above) is almost always followed by a.

ir a + place

Where someone is going.

Voy a Madrid en tren.	I'm going to Madrid by train.
¿Por qué no vamos al Alcázar?	Why don't we go to the Alcázar?

ir a + inf.

What someone is going to do: the near future.

Voy a buscar a la Sra. Suárez.	I'm going to look for Mrs. Suárez.
Tu papá y yo vamos a llevarla a la estación.	Your dad and I are going to take her to the station.

WATCH OUT

Keep the a: Voy a estudiar, never ~~Voy estudiar~~. And a + el = al (Episode 3): vamos al mercado.

The whole present tense: hablar, creer, vivir

This lesson completes the present tense of regular verbs. New are we (nosotros) and you all in Spain (vosotros). Drop -ar, -er, -ir and add the ending.

	HABLAR	CREER	VIVIR
yo	hablo	creo	vivo
tú	hablas	crees	vives
él · ella · usted	habla	cree	vive
nosotros/as · new	hablamos	creemos	vivimos
vosotros/as · new	habláis	creéis	vivís
ellos · ellas · ustedes	hablan	creen	viven

Jaime y yo vivimos en el Barrio de Triana. Estudiamos en la escuela San Francisco de Paula.	Jaime and I live in the Triana district. We study at St. Francis of Paula school.
Mamá dice que debemos estudiar más… y yo no comprendo.	Mom says that we should study more… and I don't understand.

WATCH OUT

Every we form ends in -mos (somos, estamos, vamos), so nosotros is usually left out. And -er and -ir verbs differ only here: creemos · vivimos, creéis · vivís.

You all: vosotros or ustedes?

Most Spanish speakers, Raquel included, say ustedes (Uds.) to any group, friends or strangers. In Spain, vosotros/as is for friends and family and ustedes is formal. The books use Uds.

	ONE PERSON	A GROUP IN SPAIN	A GROUP ELSEWHERE
informal	tú	vosotros/as	ustedes
formal	usted (Ud.)	ustedes (Uds.)	ustedes

Elena: ¿Dónde deseáis cenar hoy?	Where do you want to have dinner today? (vosotros)
Raquel: ¿Dónde desean cenar hoy?	The same question, with ustedes.

WATCH OUT

Ustedes takes the they form (desean, creen, viven), so speakers often keep the word ustedes to make clear they mean you.

Small rules, big difference

Personal a (Episode 3) also goes before a pet, but not before a place or a thing.	Jaime busca a Osito. · Raquel visita España. Va a visitar a Teresa Suárez.
¿Adónde? = where to? (with ir) · ¿Dónde? = where?	¿Adónde van? · ¿Dónde vive esa persona?
salir de = to leave (a place) · salir para = to leave for	Raquel sale de México para Sevilla.
en + transport = by	Voy a Madrid en tren.
por la mañana · por la tarde · por la noche when no clock time is given	Trabaja por la noche. · El sábado por la noche…
más que = more than	Jaime necesita estudiar mucho más que yo.
¿por qué? = why? · por eso = that's why · porque = because	¿Por qué no vamos? · Por eso Raquel debe ir a Madrid.

PRONUNCIACIÓN How it sounds

Rule 1: vowel, -n or -s

Stress the next-to-last syllable: hijo, Fernando, fascinante, cenan, examen, abuelos.

Rule 2: any other consonant

Stress the last syllable: preguntar, universidad, director, Raquel, español, cultural.

Rule 3: exceptions get an accent

A word that breaks Rules 1 and 2 marks its stress: sábado, inglés, religión, Ramón, Suárez, también, miércoles, música.

Why lección loses its accent

In lecciones the stress falls where Rule 1 puts it, so no mark is needed (Episode 2). An accent can also change the word: esta = this, está = is.

An accent on i or u splits the vowels

The marked í or ú becomes a syllable of its own: psicología, sociología, Andalucía, desafío.

a, e, o never blend

Two of them side by side are two syllables: a·e·ro·puer·to, re·or·ga·ni·zar, ca·os, pa·e·lla.
